

If you didn't catch Iris Dement at the Philadelphia Folk Festival, you have another chance when she kicks off a strong fall season at the Cherry Tree Music Co-op on the U. of P. Campus. The Cherry Tree's informal atmosphere should provide the perfect setting for Dement's homespun country ballads. Her high singing style owes a lot more to traditional country singers than it does to Wynona Judd, but the songs on her Infamous Angel (Philo/Rounder) are refreshingly real and written to last.

Iris Dement: Sun., Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the Cherry Tree Music Co-op in the Parish Hall of St. Mary's Church, 3916 Locust Walk, $10, 386-1649.
--Peter Brown